Perspective/Strategic plan and Deployment

Example: Tissue culture certificate course

The short term courses will make additional values in student's academics so college decided to introduce short term certificate course which will be beneficial for students. This circular was initially introduced by Solapur University dated 22 June 2018. With that reference college decided to start such courses in campus. Principal and various staff members decided to start 2 certificate course in Tally (for commerce student) and Plant Tissue culture (for Biotechnology student). Various meeting were conducted to finalize the certificate course designing syllabus structure time table adjustment. Two separate co-coordinator were appointed for smooth working of course which communicate with university for fess certificate and examination. The certificate course in Plant tissue culture and Tally was started on July 2018. Total 7 students were admitted for Plant tissue culture and total 28 students admitted for Tally course.

The institutional Strategic/ perspective plan is effectively deployed
